COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course critically analyzes the concept of disability and various conditions defined as disabling. It will also outline concerns and activism within disability communities, and strategies for social work practitioners to support independence and social inclusion of persons who live with disabilities.

COURSE PREREQUISITES

Admission to BSW program

COURSE TRANSFER

For information about the transferability of this course, please contact the Bachelor of Social Work office.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

As Mary (2008) puts it so succinctly, the best way to learn about working with and for people with disabilities is to do it. Still, this course will provide students with multiple ways and means to learn about, and demonstrate their understanding of, professional responsibilities and best practices in working with this population.

Through out this course, the student will:

1. Explore definitions and current theoretical models of disability and their effect on program planning and service delivery.
2. Be exposed to some of the major scholarly perspectives and professional issues in disability, social justice, and social policy.

3. Develop greater awareness of the importance of advocacy in promoting inclusion versus exclusion in the areas of health and well-being of persons with disabilities.
4. Examine different models of support and services for persons with disabilities and to identify best practices in the field of disability by demonstrating the use of these models when working with individuals.
5. Examine social policy and legislation in relation to disabilities specifically focusing on the international and national rights of persons with disabilities.
6. Explore ethical issues in the field of disabilities.
7. Develop personal awareness of disability and professional responsibility to promote “abilities” and reject “othering” of persons with disabilities in order to foster independence and inclusion.

COURSE FORMAT

This course is intended to support social work students in developing their understanding of the complex interplay of forces that shape policy and practice in the provision of social work services within the field of disabilities. It is also designed to foster awareness of the basic skills and competencies required for ethical and effective practice with this diverse population. Students will have multiple opportunities to learn about the specific issues and challenges for service consumers and service providers in Yukon.

The scope of disabling conditions is much broader than can be covered with any depth in the time available. And, as with any and all courses, emphasis on particular areas of practice is further informed by the skills and experience of each instructor. For these reasons you will notice that this course offering pays particular attention to working with people who have intellectual and developmental disabilities.

A variety of instructional methods will be used including formal lectures, community guest speakers, student presentations, and group discussion. Students are encouraged to enhance learning for themselves and others by contributing their own resource materials, knowledge, and experience to class discussions and activities.

ASSESSMENTS

Attendance & Participation

This course takes an “adult education” approach which facilitates active participation and meaningful collaboration of all student participants. Classes will often include experiential components. Full participation will not only benefit you, but will also enhance the learning environment for your student peers.

Punctual attendance and full participation is essential. You are strongly encouraged to attend all classes, be prepared to participate (by completing the readings and assignments on the dates due) and be willing to engage with others in an open and collaborative manner.

IMPORTANT: Please make every effort to attend every class as absences hinder your learning and those of your classmates. Students missing more than two classes will lose 5% of their total grade for each additional class missed. For example, if you miss three classes, you will have 5% taken off your final grade; four classes will result in a 10% deduction, etc.

It is your responsibility to ensure that you have signed the attendance sheet at the beginning of each class as these are the documents that will be used to determine whether deductions occur.

If you miss more than two classes, you may choose to speak with the instructor and ask for an additional assignment or assignments to complete in lieu of missed class(es). It is at the instructor's discretion whether to a) grant this request and b) determine the content and format of the assignment. This additional assignment must be completed satisfactorily prior to the end of term.

Assignments

Detailed description of assignments and associated requirements will be provided on the first day of class. Please note - all written assignments must meet the standard for accuracy in grammar and punctuation that is expected at a university level. Written assignments must also be well organized and typed/computer generated. Errors in spelling, grammar, and punctuation will affect your mark. You must use APA format.

Due dates: Assignments are to be submitted by email to the instructor, and by midnight on the date the assignment is due. Hard copies of work submitted outside of class time must be signed and dated by Applied Arts or Health, Education and Human Services administrative staff. If you have serious extenuating circumstances please speak with your instructor in advance of the due date, regarding the possibility of an extension.

Penalties: Five (5) % of the assignment's value will be deducted for every day it is late, up to a maximum of five days, after which it will not be accepted.

Rewrites: The instructor is under no obligation to provide you opportunities to re-do your work after it has been submitted for marking. If you are given an opportunity to re-submit an assignment for marking, the highest grade you can obtain is 70%.

Assignment 1 - Critical Review (20%)

Due: Week 5

Students will write a critical review of the documentary “The Freedom Tour.”

Assignments 2: “Assigned client” project (Combined total of 50%)

Due: Week 9

Early in the course each student will have been assigned one of four “clients” - each with a different type of disabling condition. Over the subsequent weeks, students will follow their client through the life span. For each stage of life, students will craft a 2-3 page critical reflection that considers and explicates the emergent areas for social work assessment and the implications for a provisional individualized plan for support. These reflections should be further substantiated through application of relevant research and/or other course materials, some of which may be provided by your instructor.

Assignment 3 - When People with Disabilities Fall through the Cracks (25%)

Due date: One week after the final class.

Students will be assigned one of the four personal stories profiled in their text and consider these in the context of human rights legislation, social work practice, and social justice aims.

EVALUATION

Assignment 1	20%
Assignment 2 (5 x 10%)	50%
Assignment 3	25%
Participation*	5%
Total	100%

* See the “How your participation will be evaluated” document on the Moodle page for this course.

SUPPLEMENTARY MATERIALS

Any additional readings assigned will be provided by the instructor or placed on reserve in the library.

ACADEMIC AND STUDENT CONDUCT

Information on academic standing and student rights and responsibilities can be found in the current Academic Regulations that are posted on the Student Services/ Admissions & Registration web page.

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is a serious academic offence. Plagiarism occurs when a student submits work for credit that includes the words, ideas, or data of others, without citing the source from which the material is taken. Plagiarism can be the deliberate use of a whole piece of work, but more frequently it occurs when students fail to acknowledge and document sources from which they have taken material according to an accepted manuscript style (e.g., APA, CSE, MLA, etc.). Students may use sources which are public domain or licensed under Creative Commons; however, academic documentation standards must still be followed. Except with explicit permission of the instructor, resubmitting work which has previously received credit is also considered plagiarism. Students who plagiarize material for assignments will receive a mark of zero (F) on the assignment and may fail the course. Plagiarism may also result in dismissal from a program of study or the College.

YUKON FIRST NATIONS CORE COMPETENCY

Yukon College recognizes that a greater understanding and awareness of Yukon First Nations history, culture and journey towards self-determination will help to build positive relationships among all Yukon citizens. As a result, to graduate from ANY Yukon College program, you will be required to achieve core competency in knowledge of Yukon First Nations. For details, please see www.yukoncollege.yk.ca/yfnccr.

ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION

Reasonable accommodations are available for students requiring an academic accommodation to fully participate in this class. These accommodations are available for students with a documented disability, chronic condition or any other grounds specified in section 8.0 of the Yukon College Academic Regulations (available on the Yukon College website). It is the student's responsibility to seek these accommodations. If a student requires an academic accommodation, he/she should contact the Learning Assistance Centre \(LAC\): lac@yukoncollege.yk.ca.

PLEASE HAVE YOUR READINGS COMPLETED PRIOR TO CLASS. This means that Readings listed in “Week 2” are to be completed prior to Class 2.

Note to students: The instructor reserves the right to modify how material will be covered.
